About the UCSI University Co-Operative Education Programme (Co-Op)

The Co-Op at UCSI University was implemented to formally integrate classroom learning with workplace training in Co-Op employer organisations. As part of meeting undergraduate and postgraduate degree requirements, all students including International Students in relevant to UCSI University programmes are required to complete a Co-Op module which is approved by the Malaysian Qualification Agency (MQA), comprising two months' work experience in each year of their diploma and degree, beginning in Year One right through to Final Year. Each Co-Op module is worth certain credits and students receive a grade for it upon completion of each Co-Op module.

Since the inception of the Co-Op programme, more than 30,000 students have been placed at world-leading companies. UCSI University has actively engaged with over 4,600 companies as of 2023. The Co-Op is a good synergy between UCSI University and its partners to provide students with the benefits of experiential learning. You can use the Co-Op as an early recruitment device, or as a means to undertake research project that may be too costly to carry out with existing manpower.
